Do You Read "THE FLAMINGO" ?

The Rollins Undergraduate Magazine

WHAT OTHERS SAY

THE VIRGINIAN-PILOT of Norfolk in an extended notice said: "The Flamingo, in our opinion, is the most neatly executed student periodical of them all. It is advertised as 'a literary magazine of the youngest generation.' It seems to be the best of that generation."

THE JACKSONVILLE TIMES-UNION: "As distinctive and unusual as its outer appearance are the contents of The Flamingo. 'The Return of Amos' has atmosphere with a strong delicate touch and an indefinable element of the mysterious. The thirteen poems indicative of a penetrating observation and sophistication rarely expressed by young students have both imagination and substance."

WHAT OTHERS SAY

PROFESSOR HILL, Whittier College, Calif.: "The Flamingo is the best magazine of the younger generation I have seen."

MR. ARTHUR SHERBURNE HARDY, the distinguished novelist and poet, who was for some years editor of "The Cosmopolitan" under John Brisbane Walker, wrote: "I approached The Flamingo with no great appetite—rather with that languid interest with which I take up any undergraduate publication. But The Flamingo interested me at once. The opening poem, 'Heaven Shining Through,' is excellent and reminded me of Emily Dickinson. The story of the man who bought nine lots in a cemetery and erected nine monuments to Myra, the saleslady, is a corker!"

EDITORIAL COMMENT

MR. WESTINGHOUSE PRAISES ROLLINS

GREAT business and professional leaders are beginning to study carefully the merits and demerits of the American educational system. One of the foremost men of the country, H. H. Westinghouse, whose utterances are of the utmost importance, recently referred to Rollins as follows:

"I have been somewhat familiar with the operations of Rollins College for over forty years, and regard it as an institution that is particularly worthy of support because of its location in a section of the country that is greatly in need and can be greatly benefitted by an active institution of its character.

"In the past, with very limited resources, it has rendered valuable service under trying circumstances, contributing educational opportunities at very moderate cost to many who would find it difficult if not impossible to seek education at more remote locations. The effort now being made to secure financial support is headed by Dr. Hamilton Holt who, within a relatively brief period, has greatly stimulated the activities of the college, and through an improved method of administration is justified in hopefully believing that it will be an important contribution to an educational advance."

NEW BIRTH IN FLORIDA

ONE of the most fascinating academic adventures of the day is at Winter Park. While several traditional colleges are merging, or passing out of existence more tragically, there is this wonderful academic "New Birth in Florida" that Hamilton Holt is sponsoring.

This new birth is to the scholastic world what hydro-electric power is to the industrial life of the age. First of all, it is overcoming the natural resistance of traditional education. Hydro-electric power had no great significance until long-distance power transmission was created for its service. It is this almost miraculous service which enables hydro-electric power to go vast distances, rendering all needed force to carry enormous loads over the steepest grades and at the same time serve the farmstead with light and heat at a nominal price.

The first great need was to overcome all natural resistance. Before voltage can be made available the resistance must be overcome, and it was the master mind of Ohm that discovered a way to measure this negative influence, hence the creation of the term ohmage as the preliminary to the measure of voltage.

Hamilton Holt at Winter Park is first of all overcoming the natural resistance of traditional academic hindrances to the personal thinking of any student. As wireless telegraphing eliminates the resistance of the wire in the ordinary message, so Rollins College aspires to set the student free from the limitations of the academic wires of other days.

Instead of expecting a student to answer questions formulated by his grandfather, he is free to ask questions which neither his father nor his professor can answer.

Rollins College is doing the academic world an inestimable service by making it impossible for a professor to conceal his own ignorance by clinging tenaciously to a traditional pedagogical, philosophical or psychological wire.—Reprinted from the June 11 issue of the Journal of Education.

A MAGAZINE FOR FORMER STUDENTS

THE editor makes a general appeal to alumni to offer suggestions of topics upon which they should like to see discussion in these pages. Articles from alumni touching upon aspects of life in every day walks, thoughts, ideals, aspirations and labors will be welcomed. While it is the wish of the editorial board to include as much of news value as possible, it is also believed that the Rollins Alumni Record should possess a tendency to carry thought-provoking articles.

HARRIET MALTBIE MILLEA

THE sympathy of former students of Rollins goes out to the sorrowing husband and parents of Harriet Maltbie Millea who passed away recently. Although not a graduate of Rollins she was a student for a number of years and passed many happy days in Cloverleaf. She was always loyal to her alma mater and followed its devel-

THE PASSING OF DR. EMILIE WATTS McVEA

THE death of Dr. Emilie Watts McVea, which occurred the latter part of July, is an irreparable loss to Rollins and to the cause of higher education in the South. Probably no woman produced by the South in this generation has had a more distinguished educational career.

As Dean of Women of the University of Cincinnati Dr. McVea occupied a position of such increasing usefulness and distinction that she was recognized as one of the foremost woman educators of America. When, later, she became President of Sweet Briar College in Virginia that institution quickly assumed a place among the leading colleges for women.

Dr. McVea's health was seriously impaired by her executive responsibilities at Sweet Briar and by her tireless efforts in behalf of the Food Administration during the World War. Consequently she was forced to relinquish her activities and seek a mild climate. The climatic conditions of Florida contributed so readily to her improvement that President Holt induced Dr. McVea to undertake a part time professorship of English at Winter Park. Upon entering this new field Dr. McVea expressed great satisfaction at being able to return to the field of teaching which she considered a joy rather than a task.

Dr. McVea's rare personality as a teacher and her literary gifts won the universal praise of the students who were privileged to come under the magic of her personality. Everyone who has come under the influence of her character will bear testimony to the fact that few women have so happily combined high intellectual attainments, executive ability, moral poise and personal charm as she did. She was truly a great teacher and a great woman, endowed with the genius of inspiring young people.

opment with the keenest of interest. Many of her closest friends were made on the Rollins campus.

It is the hope of all Rollins people that the anguish which her untimely bereavement has brought will be assuaged and leave only the cherished memory of the loved one.

News of the Rollins Clubs

ROLLINS CLUB OF NEW YORK

ROLLINS Club of New York held its annual dinner and meeting in the East dining room of the Interfraternity Club, 22 East 38th St., New York, on the evening of September 6, with an attendance of 33. Fritz J. Frank, President, presided and A. J. Hanna, Alumni Secretary, was in charge of the program. Ray More, '26, was in charge of the songs and music.

Speaking on "The Influence of the Colleges in Our Foreign Relations," Hon. Chester D. Pugsley, who addressed the student body in Winter Park last spring, said in part: "Our colleges are making a great contribution to our foreign relations not only in exchange and visiting professors and students but also by aiding in the understanding of foreign policies as the Institute of Politics at Williamstown is doing. Over 1,000 foreign students in American institutions are here by virtue of special scholarships, and this generous provision for nationals of other countries enables most of these students to come to this country for study."

Mr. Pugsley's comments served as the basis of the program for the evening. President Holt followed with an announcement that a generous friend of the college had provided a benefaction making it possible for six foreign students to enter Rollins this fall,—one from each of the following countries: France, Italy, Germany, Switzerland, Czecho-Slovakia and Hungary.

The next speaker was Archie M. Palmer, Assistant Director of the Institute of International Education, under the auspices of which organization, these students are transferred. Mr. Palmer explained the Institute's object and the results obtained by the transfer of foreign students. He expressed the hope that Rollins students might transfer to foreign universities for advanced study.

Maurice Rotival, Chairman of the French Committee to select students from that country for Rollins, next outlined the methods of education in France and suggested plans for carrying out the transfer project for his own countrymen. Mr. Rotival is a son-in-law of President Holt.

The final speaker on the program was President Holt who told of plans for increasing the endowment, announced faculty changes and gave a general outline for the future of Rollins.

A report of the nominating committee, composed of Herbert Martin, J. Dudley Calhoun and A. J. Hanna, was accepted and the following officers elected: Fritz J. Frank, President; Mrs. Carlton van Cleve, Vice-President; Fred A. Swain, Secretary and Frank Waterman Palmer, Treasurer.

Those present were: Lloyd Armstrong, Monre Arroyo, Dudley Calhoun, Alleine Doggett, Harriet Dyer, F. J. Frank, Mrs. E. N. Gage, House Mother of Kappa Alpha, A. J. Hanna, President Holt, Beatrice Jones, Donald Justice, Herbert Martin, Althea Miller, Mrs. Rice Miller, Gerard Miller, Helen Moore, Ray More, Archie M. Palmer, Frank Palmer, C. D. Pugsley, Maurice Rotival, Mrs. Maurice Rotival (Leila Holt), Chandler Shaw, Edward Sherbondy, Robert Shrewsbury, Fred A. Swain, E. A. Upmeyer, Jr., Mrs. Carlton van Cleve, Sidney Stoneburn, Mildred Edwards, Clifford Millsbaugh, A. E. Courtine of the University of Paris, Royal W. France and a representative of the New York Times.

ROLLINS CLUB OF CHICAGO

UNDER the leadership of Robert Sedgwich, President, and Ruth Stagg Lauren, Secretary, the Rollins Club of Chicago held an interesting meeting on August 4 at the Brevoort Hotel.

Dr. George E. Carrothers, retiring dean of Rollins, was the guest of honor and speaker. He explained the actual operation of the Rollins Conference Plan of Study. Another distinguished guest present was Dean Kent of Northwestern University.

An unfortunate error was made in the June issue of the Record in reporting the officers of the Rollins Club of Chicago. They are as follows: President, Robert Sedgwich; Vice-President, Walter S. Flentye; Secretary-Treasurer, Ruth Stagg Lauren.

Patient waiting may solve a problem when feverish activity fails; simple tolerance may move a sinner to repent when harsh discipline is useless.—Chinese Proverb.

ROLLINS CLUB OF BOSTON

ONE of the most enthusiastic gatherings of Rollins alumni occurred June 18 in Boston when the annual meeting of the Rollins Club of Boston took place. The splendid attendance was due to the activity of Eleanor Sprague and Madeleine Appleby.

A program of reminiscences took place at the conclusion of which President Holt outlined the present and future Rollins program. Among those who spoke were Clella Avery Shannon, Dr. N. M. Pratt, Lillian Sawyer Hawkes, Robert Black, Dr. A. D. Enyart, Harry A. Nickerson, Jack Shannon and Eleanor Sprague, who presided. Others present were: Mr. and Mrs. George L. Benedict, Sherwood Foley, Mrs. Harry A. Nickerson and A. J. Hanna.

Officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows: President, Eleanor Sprague; Vice-President, George L. Benedict and Secretary-Treasurer, Madeleine Appleby.

Miss Sprague and Miss Appleby motored down from Boston several days ago and are guests of the college for a brief time.

Clarence C. Nice, director of the Rollins college conservatory, has completed plans for the opening of many new musical activities for the coming college year. Dr. Nice succeeds Frederic Sturges Andrews as director. He will have general charge of the vocal department and expects to have some worthwhile singing organizations in Rollins this year. Dr. Nice is not only a very fine director but is also an artist. He was formerly musical director of the La Scala Grande Opera company, which was in Orlando two years ago. Mr. Nice has proven himself a musician many times over. Last spring he organized and conducted the First Annual Orange County Music Festival, probably the finest musical program that has ever been given in this part of the country. Mr. Nice has a great many ideals for the further development of the conservatory. Many of his plans are already in operation and he will go far in making the Rollins School of Music one of the best in the South.

There is an inch of gold in every inch of time.—Chinese Proverb.

BERRY, FRESHMEN COACH

Mr. Curry B. Berry has been engaged as assistant coach under Mr. Bailey and will conduct the affairs of the freshmen squad. Mr. Berry is also a graduate of Mississippi College, where he made nine letters, three each in football, basketball and baseball and where he was captain of each team once.

For two years Berry was All-Southern basketball forward and all-state end on football team for two years.

For the past two years Mr. Berry has successfully coached the teams of Clarke College. Mr. Berry has just completed a course of study at the Coaching School of the University of Wisconsin and arrived on the campus on September 10th to assist Coach Bailey in inaugurating the Tar training season.

The freshmen squad is probably stronger this year than ever before. There are twenty-five candidates for berths on the freshmen eleven and competition is keen for these coveted places.

Two games have been definitely scheduled for the "Tar Babies." On October 6 they will meet the strong Sanford High school team at Sanford and on October 12 will face the Southern College rats at Lake Wales. Two games are being arranged for with the St. Petersburg Junior College, one at home and one in St. Petersburg; games will be played with the Stetson University freshmen and an all-star team from Titusville; and there will probably be one or two other high school teams included in the schedule.

HAMILTON HOLT SPEAKS AT N. Y. CORNELL CLUB

As the principal speaker at a luncheon given at the Cornell Club of New York, July 14th, under the auspices of the Institute of International Education, President Hamilton Holt of Rollins College, explained the similarity of the Rollins conference plan of study to the English method of college instruction. The luncheon was given in honor of a group of British students of Oxford University who have just arrived in New York for a tour of American colleges. In the group was the son of Gilbert Murray and the young Prince of Baden.

S P O R T S*COACH BAILEY

Coach James F. Bailey, graduate of Mississippi College, Director of Athletics at Rollins for the season of 1928-29. Coach Bailey was placed on the All-Southern Football Honor Roll in 1922 from Mississippi College. In 1924 he was All-S.I.A.A. basketball guard. He held many honors while in college among them being field captain, captain of basketball team, president of the letter club and member of the honor council.

ROLLINS FOOTBALL SCHEDULE FOR 1928

October 13, South Georgia A. & M. College, at home.

October 20, Stetson University, at home.

October 27, Piedmont College, at home.

November 3, University of Miami, at Miami.

November 3, Erskine College (Pending), at home.

November 17, Open.

November 24, Southern College, at Lakeland.

November 29, Open.

Prospects for the varsity this year are unusually bright. While five men were lost by graduation last spring, there are twelve additional candidates on whom Coach Bailey may call. Eight of these are from last year's freshman squad, and include such players as Joe Gentile, Al Rashid, Harry Tracey, Harry James, John Quill, and others. The others are junior college graduates and men who, though eligible for the varsity last year, did not go out. The varsity squad will number in all over thirty men.

Games for the open dates in the regular schedule and one or two post-season dates are being arranged for at this time, according to Coach Bailey, and will be announced through the press as soon as definitely settled.

The alumni and local fans are eagerly awaiting the opening of the 1928-29 athletic program on October 13.

Mrs. Ruby Warren Newby has enlarged the art department. Special courses in the teaching of art will be introduced this year. Mrs. Sophie Frances Parsons has been added to the department to take charge of portrait and life classes, design, and training in the methods of teaching art.

Dr. Helen W. Cole, formerly of Wheaton College, will be professor of Greek and Roman civilization. Dr. Cole will not only conduct the regular liberal arts courses in Greek and Latin but will stimulate interest in the civilization of the ancients among the students.

Rollins in the News of the Day

Boston Transcript, June 19: "With Hamilton Holt, President of Rollins, as its commencement speaker, Boston University held its 55th annual graduation exercises in the Boston Arena, where 13,000 alumni, friends and relatives of the graduates crowded the building to capacity. More than 1,000 degrees were awarded."

Boston Globe, June 19: "The award of 3 honorary degrees to President A. Lawrence Lowell of Harvard, President Hamilton Holt of Rollins and Prof. James Arthur Tufts of Phillips Exeter Academy, which was kept secret until yesterday, came as a surprise to the entire gathering."

Boston Globe, June 19: (From President Holt's commencement address at Boston University) "It is personality and character that count in a professor, and not the knowledge on tap."

New York Times, June 19: (From President Hamilton Holt's commencement address at Boston University discussing the Rollins Conference Plan of Study): "Under this plan the student progresses as rapidly as his ability permits and his relation is primarily to his professor."

Chicago Evening Post, June 22: "Mr. Jenks' study of 'Our Cuban Colony' is equally exhaustive, and in addition is written in a style that makes it read more like a narrative."

Bookman Magazine, June: "Prof. L. H. Jenks, in his extremely readable account of 'Our Cuban Colony' exonerates Wall St. from responsibility for the Spanish-American War."

New York Times, July 5: In a report of the opening of the ninth session of the Bread Loaf School of English of Middlebury College, Edwin Osgood Grover, Professor of Books in Rollins College, was mentioned as a member of the staff who was present.

Salt Lake City Tribune, July 8: Referring to the new book by the Rollins professor—"Politically, the United States, Dr. Jenks' study shows, has been thoroughly disinterested in its relations with the Cuban Republic; but, economically, the country is in the power of American business."

The Nation, July 11: (Reviewing "Migration of British Capital," written by Dr. L. H. Jenks, head of the History Department of Rollins): "Here is a book of immense industry and fine skill. It shows a mastery not only of the ordinary sources but of masses of banking and journalistic records which nobody has tapped before."

New York World, July 15: In a column article, describing the Rollins Conference Plan of Study, the following quotation from President Holt is given: "I have four ideals for Rollins College: that it shall always be a small institution, limited to 700 students; that it shall specialize in the beloved type of professor rather than the research man, and in the faithful student rather than the one who just passes his grades, and finally, that it shall have the most beautiful architecture and grounds in America."

Yonkers (N. Y.) Herald, July 18: In a feature story, illustrated by a two-column cut of President Holt, the Rollins Conference Plan is discussed as one of the leading educational undertakings of the present day by the Herald which calls Rollins, "the undergraduates' Eldorado." In quoting President Holt the article says: "Personality makes the great teacher. We are all familiar with the teacher with the golden personality who can make the most abstruse subject interesting, and the dullard who blights any subject he touches. As our faculty expands I hope to invite only those professors to join our circle who have the nobility of character and the gift of teaching which alone can inspire youth."

The Little Age (New York) July: "F. J. Frank has been in the business paper publishing business for 30 years. Two years after he received his A.B. degree at Rollins, he joined the Colliery Engineer, and 8 years later he became Chicago representative of the Mining and Scientific Press. Before 2 years more had passed he was with the Iron Age. Within a year he was elected secretary of the firm, and 7 years later he became vice-president. Apparently he did not care much for vice-presiding for he held that job only 3 years, taking over the presidency of the company in 1920. Since then he has been elected president of the United Publishers Corporation, which is the owner of the Iron Age and many other business papers."

(Mr. Frank is a trustee of Rollins and President of the Rollins Club of New York).

The Progressive Education Magazine for July: Edwin Osgood Grover, Professor of Books at Rollins, is the author of an eight-column article in this issue in which he discusses the Rollins Conference Plan. In part he says: "One of the things that we believe is happening at Rollins is the development of a method or technique that will enable college students to take a larger part as active intellectual agents in their own education. That, in a word, is the theme and philosophy underlying the interesting experiment in which my college is engaged."

Current History Magazine, July: A review of "Studies in American Imperialism" refers to "Our Cuban Colony," a study in sugar by Dr. Leland H. Jenks, Professor of History in Rollins, as "ably written and the radical bias of its author has served a very useful purpose in inducing a thoroughly skeptical spirit of inquiry and of criticism which has brought out the facts as the acid brings out the impressions on a photographic negative."

New York Sun, Aug. 11: Paragraph from a report of the Institute of Politics at Williams College: "Discussing Mexico's financial status before the round table conference on inter-American relations, Prof. L. H. Jenks of Rollins College, Florida, declared the financial question was the most critical problem in Mexico's external affairs today."

Springfield (Mass.) Republican, Aug. 17: "To do away with formalism in education, to get personable individuals to instruct faithful students in a happy environment, these are the aims of Hamilton Holt, President of Rollins College, as he outlined them to the members of the Exchange Club this noon."

Globe Democrat, St. Louis, Mo., Aug. 29: An editorial, one column in length, discussed the Caribbean policy of the United States, using as a basis the reported statements of Dr. L. H. Jenks of Rollins at the Institute of Politics, Williamstown, Mass.

Bridgeport (Conn.) Post, Sept. 5: "Vast changes in methods of instruction in the past generation and an idea of the plan followed in building up Rollins College were alluded to at a luncheon of the Advertising Club Tuesday when President Hamilton Holt told of the methods of instruction adopted."

Bridgeport (Conn.) Telegram, Sept. 5: (Editorial) "It may be that Rollins College is pioneering in an educational adventure that will lead to a revolution in the academic world. At the very least it has already focussed attention upon the outstanding faults of the system of mass education now so popular in America, and is causing the great universities to pause and take stock of themselves."

Harpers Magazine, September: From an article on recent educational innovations: "There is no best method of instruction, whether in the home, the school, or the college. Education does not succeed or fail on the issue of methodology but on the capacity and the personality of the teacher himself. That ought to be commonplace but it is not. Otherwise we should hardly have these perennial announcements from Rollins or Ripon, from Tucson or Tuscaloosa, that some one has discovered in the two-hour conference, or the pro-seminar, or the socialized recitation, a new educational alchemy which enables the undergraduate to get educated without exertion, no matter what kind of faculty the college employs."

"No more shall some ex-cathedra dogmatist deliver his pontifical discourses from the rostrum with no opportunity for the benches to hit back; but teacher and pupil will exchange ideas, like Socrates and Plato. Encourage the freshman to assume a 'challenging attitude' towards everything which the instructor may say, be it an assertion that the earth is a sphere, or that the poles are colder than the equator, or that the Dutch have captured Amsterdam. Develop his spirit of criticism, his propensity to disagree. If this does not make the undergraduate a more intelligent citizen, it will at least qualify him as a municipal reformer."

Dr. Nice has ambition for the conservatory. That will do a great deal toward making this the most successful musical year that Rollins has ever had.

Mrs. Maurice Rotival, daughter of President and Mrs. Hamilton Holt.

HOLT-ROTIVAL

Miss Leila Stuart Holt, daughter of President and Mrs. Hamilton Holt, was married to Mr. Maurice Rotival on August 4 at Woodstock, Conn., the Holt summer home.

Dr. Charles A. Campbell, Professor of Bible, performed the ceremony and Herman Siewert, of the Conservatory faculty, rendered the musical program. Twenty-two Rollins and Winter Park people were present for the ceremony and the reception that followed.

Mr. and Mrs. Rotival will make their home in Paris, France, where Mr. Rotival is interested in a large number of business and engineering activities.

DARLINGTON-YARBOROUGH

Of cordial interest to friends is the announcement of the marriage of Miss Hazel I. Darlington of Bithlo and Mr. James Yarborough of Gastonia, N. C., which was an event of Sunday, July 15, at the First Presbyterian Church with the Rev. J. Blanton Belk officiating.

Miss Darlington, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Darlington of Bithlo, has been a student at the Rollins Conservatory of Music for the past three years and has done splendid work in voice.

Mr. Yarborough is chief engineer with the WDBO broadcasting station at Orlando.

The young couple are at home at 72 East Concord avenue, Orlando.

A CORRECTION

Through an error in a former issue of THE ALUMNI RECORD the name of Helen McKay Lindsey's son was misprinted. His correct name is William McKay Lindsey.

Opening of the Forty-fourth Year

FOUNDED in 1885 as the first institution of higher learning in Florida, Rollins College opened its doors for the academic year 1928-29 on September 26, well launched on a program of educational pioneering that has begun to attract the attention of the educational world and reflect much credit on the progressiveness of the state of Florida.

Rollins is entering its third year of the Conference Plan of Study which is based on the theory that genuine comradeship in learning is possible only in a small college where professors are not merely great names and students not merely insignificant, and where a student may receive the maximum of individualized instruction and influence from his professor. In proportion to the number of students Rollins has one of the largest corps of professors of any college in the country because President Holt believes one teacher to every ten students is the correct ratio.

In building up the Rollins faculty President Holt is associating with himself men and women who possess the rare gift of teaching, who are interested in the human side of the student and who possess the ability to inspire young people. In other words, "golden personalities" as he calls them.

The "golden personalities" for 1928-29 are as follows:—Winslow S. Anderson, A.M., Dean of Men; Thomas P. Bailey, Ph.D., Philosophy and Psychology; James F. Bailey, B.A., Physical Director of Men and Varsity Coach; Curry B. Berry, B.A., Assistant Physical Director of Men and Freshman Coach; Jeanne M. Bowman, French; Joseph Bueno, M.A., Spanish; Sylvester Bingham, M.A., English; Charles A. Campbell, D.D., Bible; Glen E. Carlson, M.A., Economics; Fred Chase, Assistant Mathematics; Mrs. Helen W. Cole, Ph.D., Latin and Greek; J. Malcom Forbes, A.B., Economics; Richard Feuerstein, Ph.D., Modern Languages; F. R. Georgia, Ph.D., Chemistry; James M. SOME notable improvements have been made on the Rollins College Campus this summer. Last spring, a number of the faculty and students who felt that the campus should be made more attractive started a subscription for the purpose. The spirit was contagious, and practically the entire student body and faculty subscribed, as well as a number of other friends of the college. The Winter Park Chamber of Commerce heartily endorsed the move, which is in keeping with the progressive beautification program of the City of Homes.

The first unit selected for beautification was around Carnegie Hall, the Administration building. New shrubbery has been planted, a modern sprinkler system installed and grass planted.

HOTEL GEORGE WASHINGTON, JACKSONVILLE, ENTERS INTERCOLLEGIATE ALUMNI SERVICE

W. S. Anderson and Ada Collins Holme New Deans

SEVERAL changes of importance in the administration of Rollins College have been announced by President Hamilton Holt. Dr. George E. Carrothers, Dean of Rollins for the past two years, has resigned to become Professor of Education with administrative duties at the University of Michigan. A reorganization of the Dean's office has taken place, states President Holt, dividing the executive duties between a Dean of Men and a Dean of Women. This reorganization, the result of a thorough consideration of the needs of the Conference Plan of Study and the general development of Rollins, assures the utmost individual attention to all students and makes adequate provision for the efficient administration of the office which Dean Carrothers has directed so admirably.

Professor Winslow S. Anderson, a graduate of Bates and of the University of Minnesota, an administrator of wide experience and a teacher of unusual personality, is the new Dean of Men. Mrs. Ada Collins Holme, whose degrees are from Smith and Columbia, and who possesses broad experience in the problems that confront young women, is the new Dean of Women.

"Friends of Rollins College," said Dr. Holt, "will regret to hear of the resignation of Dean Carrothers who left a very fine position in Ohio University two years ago to take a leading part in the shaping of what I like to call our 'high adventure in common sense education.' His educational leadership, administrative ability, and force of character have won him an enviable position not only in our community, where he has found time to take an active part in both church and civic affairs, but also throughout the state. He has been in great demand as a lecturer, especially by churches, service clubs, and high schools, and has often been called into consultation by the educational leaders of Florida.

"Dr. Carrothers, more than anyone else, deserves the credit for bringing Rollins into the Association of Secondary Schools and Colleges of the Southern States and the American Council of Education. He leaves Rollins with the good will and best wishes of our students and faculty and enters his new position in one of the greatest universities with every prospect of a distinguished future in educational leadership."

In explanation to the revision of the executive duties of the Dean's office, and the new appointments, President Holt said: "Professor Winslow S. Anderson, who has assumed his duties as Dean of Men at Rollins, is no stranger in Florida. In 1921-22 he came to Rollins as Professor of Chemistry after having been graduated at the head of his class with Phi Beta Kappa honors at Bates College in Maine. The following year he took his master's degree at the University of Minnesota after which he taught chemistry at the North Carolina State College and served as consultant in chemistry for a number of industrial concerns.

"In 1924 Dean Anderson organized the Theta Kappa Nu National fraternity, of which Rollins had one of the charter chapters. As its national president Dean Anderson has directed the remarkable growth and development of this Greek letter society until it now has 45 chapters in the leading colleges and universities of America, and has accumulated a surplus fund of over $20,000. Dean Anderson is a man of both achievement and promise and Rollins, as well as the state of Florida, is fortunate in the happy arrangement that brings him to us."

"Mrs. Ada Collins Holme who will share with Dean Anderson the responsibilities of the Dean's office, and especially direct activities of the Rollins girls, is a graduate of Smith College and of Columbia University. She is also a graduate of the Prince School of Personnel Management and has served as Personal Editor of the 'Women's Wear,' a magazine. Her understanding of girls and her experience in vocational guidance will be of inestimable value to us in providing for Rollins girls unusual opportunities for personal development. Her various experiences in industry and education will enable her to co-operate with Dean Anderson in continuing to raise the standards of Florida's oldest institution of higher learning."

Dr. James Sullivan, Assistant Commissioner for Higher and Professional Education of the University of the State of New York, has just announced the registration by the State Department of Education of New York of the courses of study of Rollins College leading to the degree of B.A. and B.S.

This new recognition of the standards of Rollins College entitles graduates of this Florida institution to college graduate teachers certificates in the state of New York, an honor held by a limited number of colleges throughout the country.

During the past year the standards of Rollins have been singularly recognized. First by the admission of the college into the Association of Colleges of the Southern States last December, which gives unquestioned transfer privileges to all other institutions, and later, by admission to the American Council of Education.

One contact between students and such personalities is made possible through the Tuesday Evening Lecture Course sponsored by the Chapel Association under Dr. Charles A. Campbell. On the list of widely known men who will appear on the lecture platform this year is Count Sferza, the Prime Minister of Italy in the Nitti Cabinet. He was a former minister to China as well as the former Italian Delegate to the League of Nations. Count Sferza comes to Rollins under the auspices of the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace, and it is expected that he will remain in Winter Park for six weeks with the Countess and their two children.
